We will close on Friday 12th February for all children. There will also be no home learning set for half term. We ask that any Critical Keyworkers whose children have been attending school arrange their normal holiday childcare for this week. We hope all families allow their children to have some down time! We will return to home learning and school on Monday 22nd February—Thank you.

Snow Day Creations

Can you spot yours?

Well done everyone, this is just a selection! We have seen some truly marvelous creations!
