Dear Parents,

As we move closer to half term, I would like to thank all our families for their support over the past 7 weeks.

We started the term thrilled that things had started to feel more normal in school and excited about the plans we had for the term, including parents evenings, extra curricular clubs, a disco, trips, visitors into school and the return of whole school collective worship.

As the term has gone on we have seen the spread of covid increase across not only the community but also across our school community. This has been devastating for staff and myself not only because some plans have had to be put on hold but we have had to go back to working separately across the school. This isn't how we want to work.

I would like to thank parents for following the Public Health guidance that we have sent out.

As children mix more in school and out of school, we have seen not only the increase of Covid cases across the school but also an increase in childhood diseases, such as chicken pox. This is inevitable as we have had two years of the best attendance we have seen, this is partly because children haven't been mixing as widely and we haven't seen cases of childhood diseases.

We continue to work within our Covid Outbreak management Plan up to half term and this will be reviewed after the holiday.

We hope that you all have some quality time over half term and let the children enjoy some Autumn fun. I also hope the staff enjoy a well deserved rest.

Kind Regards,
Mrs Leadbitter

Parents of Year 6—Please don't forget there is a zoom meeting for our PGL residential tonight at 5pm.

Don't forget the last parents online safety session will be held tonight at 6pm for just 45 mins. A link will be text today so you can join this really important session.

We have been awarded an Artsmark Silver award. Through the hard work of Mrs Sutcliffe (nee. Hargreaves) we have provided evidence of the fantastic art curriculum that is delivered to the children here at Todmorden CE J, I & N School. We are incredibly proud of this award. We will display our certificate with pride.
